NOTIONS

ConnectingThreads.com

Hi All!

Around here at Connecting Threads we are settling into Winter and all the fun, family & festivities that brings. Our December catalog is FULL of great deals. We were busy all year long bringing you as many new things as we could find, and apparently we were REALLY good at our job. The warehouse manager called and said we are almost out of bin space, so... a sale it is! While we've loved these collections, books & notions they have got to move so that the new tenants can take up residence in their currently occupied bins. It's a great time to fill up your stash to keep yourself sewing through the winter.
